GOOD FOOD.
GOOD MUSIC.
GREAT PEOPLE.

THE CONCEPT

You walk in off a New York street
— and suddenly, you're in Tokyo.

Not the polished version. The real one. Layered. Electric. Alive.

Tokyo Rocks is a modern Japanese food hall and immersive entertainment destination inspired by the energy, nightlife, food culture, music and sensory experiences of Tokyo — a multi-dimensional cultural destination, not a single restaurant.

東京が、ニューヨークで生きている。

The opportunity at a glance

Valuation math reflects $18M for 30%; final capitalization and security terms remain subject to investor diligence.

THE THESIS

One address. Twelve reasons to come back.

LOCATION

Prime SoHo, New York City — the highest-density crossover of resident spend and global tourism.

DAYPARTS

Daytime café and market revenue through to late-night bar and music revenue in one lease.

DEPTH

Multiple distinct experiences under one roof, each with its own reason to visit.

DISTRIBUTION

Built to be filmed — every room is a social-media surface that markets the venue for free.

FREQUENCY

A repeat-visit destination rather than a one-occasion restaurant.

AUDIENCE

Designed for locals and tourists at the same time, weekday and weekend.

THE FOOD HALL • GROUND FLOOR

One destination, five complementary revenue engines

CULINARY

Sushi, ramen, izakaya, tempura, wagyu and seasonal chef-driven stations

01

BEVERAGE

Japanese whisky, sake and high-margin craft cocktails

02

MUSIC

Live room, ticketed shows, artist activations and nightlife

03

CULTURE

Anime, retail, pop-ups and interactive Japanese experiences

04

EVENTS

Private dining, brand launches, classes and full-venue buyouts

05

Retail, ticketed experiences and private events are revenue lines the model must size independently of food and beverage.

The ecosystem: twelve worlds inside one address

INSIDE TOKYO ROCKS · 01

The food hall and market

A market-style Japanese food hall built for movement and discovery — open kitchens, counters and stalls around a central floor, with a full retail grocery and sake wall running alongside it.

COUNTERS

Sushi & seafood, ramen & noodles, robata skewers, katsu sando

FORMAT

Fast-casual through to fine dining in one room

RETAIL

Japanese groceries, sake & shochu, artisanal goods, coffee & tea

TRADING

All-day, 11am to 11pm, plus late-night

"Eataly meets Tokyo nightlife."

ROBATAYAKI GRILL · 2ND FLOOR

INSIDE TOKYO ROCKS · 02

Fire and craft

The second floor is the room people come back for. An open robatayaki grill is the visual and social heart of the venue; hidden alongside it, an intimate omakase counter delivers the quiet, high-check counterpoint.

OMAKASE BAR · PRECISION, SEASONALITY, EXPERIENCE

ROBATAYAKI

Open-flame cooking, wagyu, black cod, king salmon, scallop, Japanese vegetables

OMAKASE

Intimate counter, seasonal, chef-led

ALSO ON TWO

Sake Library and private dining room

PAIRING

Sake, Japanese whisky and cocktails

炉端焼き LIVE FIRE. EVERY DISH. EVERY MOMENT.

INSIDE TOKYO ROCKS · 03

Afterdark

By night another door opens. A vinyl-and-whisky listening lounge holds the room at low light and high margin; below it, a hidden rock bar inspired by the underground clubs of Shibuya and Shinjuku takes the night to close.

LISTENING LOUNGE

300+ whiskies, artisanal sake, curated vinyl

MARGIN

Beverage-led, low cost of goods

ROCK BAR

Live bands, vinyl DJs, late-night dining

PROGRAMMING

Ticketed shows and artist activations

LIVE LOUD 大きな音で生きる

INSIDE TOKYO ROCKS · 04

Immersive and cultural

The ticketed layer. Three culture-led experiences that trade independently of the kitchen, draw a family and daytime audience, and convert directly into retail and food spend on the way out.

IMMERSIVE TOKYO

360° projection, interactive floors, sound and light

KIMONO EXPERIENCE

Museum exhibition, dressing and photography

POP-CULTURE MUSEUM

Anime art, exhibits, collectibles and retail

REVENUE

Admissions, retail and private hire

Any use of third-party anime or character IP requires a separate licence; the museum programme should be underwritten on original and licensed-in content.

A dimly lit, atmospheric photograph of a sumo wrestling match taking place in a circular ring. Two sumo wrestlers, wearing traditional mawashi, are in a crouched stance, facing each other. The background is filled with the silhouettes of a large crowd of spectators, and the walls are adorned with various Japanese flags and decorations. The overall mood is traditional and authentic.

INSIDE TOKYO ROCKS · 05 · THE SIGNATURE

The Sumo Hall

A dramatic ring at the centre of the second floor with live exhibition matches, taiko drums, ceremonial entrances and sake service — the room that makes Tokyo Rocks impossible to compare to another restaurant, and the single most defensible reason to buy a ticket.

LIVE SUMO EXHIBITIONS

TAIKO DRUMS

SAKE SERVICE

ELEVATED DINING

PRIVATE EVENTS & BUYOUTS

One lease, trading from morning coffee to last call

Most restaurants monetise two or three hours a day. Tokyo Rocks is designed so a different room carries each part of the clock.

Illustrative operating concept based on the stated 11am–11pm trading window and late-night licence — not a revenue forecast. Actual dayparts to be set in the operating plan.

The ownership structure separates operations from global IP

NEWCO

Delaware operating company

- Holds the New York lease and operating assets
- Raises $18M for 30% investor ownership
- Operates the venue and distributes cash flow

BRANDCO

Global intellectual-property company

- Owned by Todd English, CEO & Founder
- Owns Tokyo Rocks trademarks, brand and IP
- Licenses defined rights to NEWCO

Investor diligence must define the license term, royalty, exclusivity, termination rights and change-of-control treatment.

Proposed investor terms: meaningful ownership with protected governance

SECURITY	Preferred equity in NEWCO; exact class and rights to be negotiated
OWNERSHIP	30% fully diluted at closing, subject to final cap table
GOVERNANCE	Board seat or observer right; reserved matters for major decisions
INFORMATION	Monthly KPI reporting; quarterly financials; annual budget approval
DISTRIBUTIONS	Tax distributions first; remaining cash per agreed waterfall
EXIT RIGHTS	Tag-along, drag-along, transfer and change-of-control provisions

Illustrative term framework — not a securities offering and not a substitute for definitive documentation.

Capital is released against defined development milestones

A third-party construction monitor and board-approved draw process should govern all material disbursements.

Sources and uses must be reconciled before closing

SOURCES

- Investor equity: $18M
- Sponsor / strategic capital: to be confirmed
- Senior construction or equipment debt: to be confirmed
- Landlord contribution / tenant allowance: site dependent

USES

- Leasehold improvements and fit-out
- Kitchen, bar, entertainment and technology equipment
- Pre-opening payroll, training and launch marketing
- Working capital, contingency and financing costs

Required closing deliverable: line-item development budget, monthly cash flow, contingency policy and committed funding sources.

Debt can accelerate returns — but must not endanger the flagship

RECOMMENDED CREDIT GUARDRAILS

- No uncommitted funding gap at construction start
- Debt sized to conservative cash flow — not headline revenue
- Board approval for new debt, liens and guarantees
- Interest reserve and minimum liquidity covenant
- No cross-collateralization of global BRANDCO IP

INVESTOR DILIGENCE

Debt schedule must show

- Lender, principal, rate and maturity
- Amortization and balloon exposure
- Covenants, guarantees and collateral
- Base / downside debt-service coverage

Current deck does not disclose a debt amount or lender commitment.

The financial model must prove resilience — not just upside

BASE CASE

Opening date, stabilized sales, margins and cash yield

DOWNSIDE

Construction delay, lower traffic, margin pressure and slower ramp

BREAK-EVEN

Monthly revenue required to cover fixed costs and debt service

CORE OUTPUTS

Five-year P&L · Cash flow · Working capital · Capex schedule
Investor IRR / MOIC · DSCR · Sensitivity table

Diligence priorities before an investor can underwrite the opportunity
